

An imagination inspired by video “Show”

That was 6 years ago already. With my three best friends, the lessons being finished and the exams successfully passed, we spent the evening in a disco. 3 a.m. We return to André's parents' apartment. Yes there are no coincidences but only coincidences (cinematographic reference for movie buffs Hasards et Coïncidences de Claude Lelouch) Once again I failed to hook a girl while my three comrades are hanging on their smartphone and chatting with their conquest of one evening in the dining room. I am moping on the balcony, a little sad. The already summery temperature rises very quickly. On the building opposite a girl has just appeared. Back to the railing, she is completely naked. I turn around. My friends are always with their mobile. So I'm the only one to see her. She has incredibly curvy buttocks. I never take my eyes off her.

I don't understand what she is doing, her right hand is not visible. I dare not imagine. Oh my god she turns around. She will see me. I have to hide. Impossible, I'm hypnotized. She is magnificent. Her long hair twirls from right to left, her breasts are magnificent and from where I am I can even see her erect nipples towards me. I now discover her almost completely shaved pussy. I don't want my friends to join me on the balcony. This young woman must remain mine, only mine.

She knows now that I am watching her and she is playing with my pleasure that she seems guessed. She sways her hips, she waves her hair, she runs her hands over her body as if to draw me her perfect curves, she waves at me and smiles at me. I'm so happy.

Unfortunately my friends come to join me and the balcony goddess disappears as she came. I stay prostrate for a few more moments before going home, my head filled with erotic images.
