"I don't feel well today," Jeny said. So what is she doing to get better and take her mind off things? She puts on stockings, her heels and a coat and that's it. She gets in her car and drives to a supermarket. "Walking around like this is very erotic," she continues. We see her in her car in the parking lot and then, with her selfie stick, we follow her through the aisles of the store. She opens and closes her coat in the shelves. A saleswoman saw her in the distance and thought she was crazy. And then when Jeny put down her camera, she took off her coat for a few seconds to remain completely naked. Incredible. She later told us that security must have spotted her because she felt she was being watched by guys. Finally, she goes to her car in the parking lot, leaving her coat wide open for the pleasure of those who will be lucky enough to meet her.
