

Review for Video “Up-skirts for him”

This video lasts for 16:06 minutes and is another one in the psychologist series. The set up was that a guy was asked to complete a questionnaire in a room with Jeny. He was told to wear a mask as Jeny did not want to view his facial expressions until after the test was completed and before then she would try to judge his personality.

In fact what Jeny wanted was to be able to see the victim’s eyes, without showing his face, during the video as she intended to flash and tease him to see his reactions. There were hidden cameras in the room to video what happened. Jeny was dressed sexily in a black leather jacket worn over a blouse with frills, a black mini-skirt and black high heels and she wore her hair in a pony-tail. From the start, the skirt was so short that the tops of her nude coloured stockings could be seen.

The guy entered and sat down on a stool to start completing the paper. Jeny sat on a stool on the opposite side but when she sat down the skirt rose up to reveal her stocking tops. She later secretly stood behind him in the corner of the room and removed her jacket to take off her blouse and bra before putting the jacket back on.

Unfortunately one of the cameras stopped working. Jeny explained that the guy had spotted her nipple and pussy and a camera. He'd also complained about her nudity, so had left. It takes all sorts I suppose! Still, there are some great shots of Jeny flashing.
