

Review for video “The Date POV”

This video is 23:04 minutes long. It is the first one I watched where an important butterfly featured and was specifically mentioned. More about that later. It is also the only video currently published on Jeny’s website with POV in the title.

The opening shots are of Jeny standing on a footpath in a park near to a river or lake. She looks very attractive wearing a dark blue mini skirt and a light grey, short leather jacket. She carries a pink umbrella and her auburn hair hangs loosely over her shoulders. She is also wearing a striking pair of sky blue high heels. We will see later that the shoes have striking parrot motifs on them.

Initially Jeny has her back to the camera, but in the next scenes we see her turning around as if she is looking for someone or something. She must have found what she was looking for as we then see her face and the top part of her body as she addresses the camera.

She says “Hello Brian” and then she also says “You look better in person than you do in the photo you sent me”. So she has met Brian* in the park for a first date. Luckily for us Brian has brought a video camera with him so we will get to see how they get on.

Jeny than says "Let's go take a walk".

So they start to walk. Brian lags slightly behind Jeny. He takes the chance to video Jeny's fabulous legs. They are sheaved in a nude coloured nylon material. At that moment, there is no indication if they are stockings or pantyhose. We also have a closer look at the distinctive high heels and the parrot motif in bright red and yellow, contrasting with the sky blue colour of the heels.

They continue to walk for a short while. It is quite windy. Jeny suggests they take a seat on some unusual curved wooden plank structures.

Jeny perches on the edge of one of these structures, leaning slightly backwards, resting on her arms. Brian has stood back taking shots. We get the first look up Jeny's skirt (clever Brian). We also see the first glimpse of Jeny's landing strip and the outline of her pussy's lips. So she is wearing stockings!

Jeny comments that as Brian is wearing sunglasses, she cannot tell what he is looking at. We know full well though what he must be looking at though.

They talk generally and the subject gets on to transport. Jeny says she uses both her car and the subway. She prefers using the car because when using the subway, things happen to her. She mentions instances where in crowded carriages, she has had men pressing into her, petting her butt and even putting hands up her skirt. All the while, Jeny is sat down looking at Brian. She tells him to stand up for a better view. She gently parts and closes her legs.

They move to a different location. Jeny has spotted a number of swings with large wooden slatted chairs on them. She wants to sit on one of them, so she does, leaning fully back onto the seat.

Jeny has cottoned on to the fact that her date is taking every chance to look up her skirt. That seems to be exciting her. Her skirt has ridden up her legs, so a large expanse of her thighs can now be seen, as can the tops of her stockings.

She then lifts the hem of her skirt so her pussy lips come into view. She tells Brian to “Look down, look”. I’m sure he does.

Jeny gently sways backward and forward on the swing. She knows full well what Brian is looking at now. She even asks him how he likes the view. She is enjoying her teasing and is getting excited. She now has a very naughty, mischevious smile on her face...

...and says “So, keep looking”. What an invitation!

The fun on the swing continues for some minutes until Jeny suggests they take another walk, because they don't know what else might be seen. Sounds intriguing!

The next stopping point is Jeny sat down on a quite steeply sloping mud bank, that leads down to some water, close to some trees. Once again Jeny flashes her pussy but also now she blatantly rubs and pets it. She thinks there is a confused look on her date's face.

She seems to be sat on a dark hoodie put on the ground – was that Brian being gallant?

After trying sitting on some more benches, the action then moves to a more open, grassy area. Again, Jeny sits on the ground on the hoodie. There is very risqué talk between the two of them. Jeny asks if he likes peaches, because they are so tasty and juicy. She then says “Do you know I have a peach that is the most tasty and juicy”. At that point she then flashes her pussy in the most blatant way with a broad smile on her face. What is she suggesting?

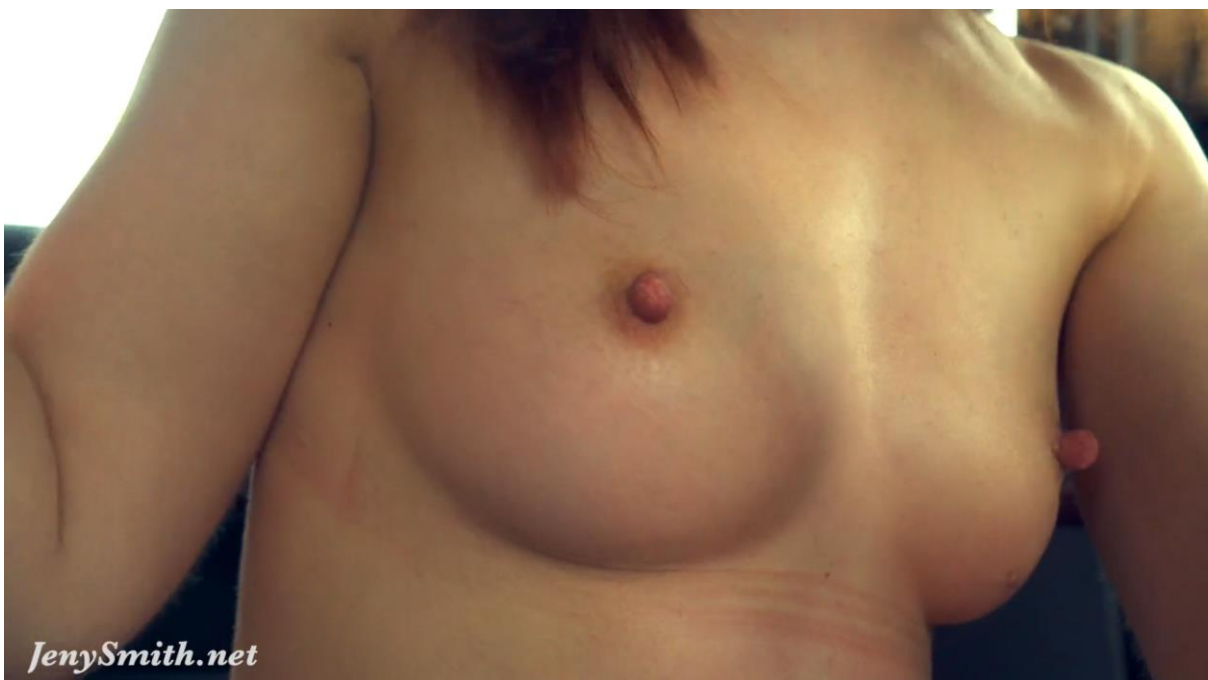

She then says that she is going to fix her skirt. But before she can, some people out walking their dog pass close behind her whilst the dog itself passes very, very close in front of Jeny. [Insert your own jokes here about dogs and pussies].

She then wiggles from side to side on her butt whilst on the ground to remove her skirt...

...but almost straight away she notices other people walking towards her, so she has to quickly put the skirt back on.

Jeny must have decided that there are now too many other people around for her to be able to safely continue with her flashing and teasing of her date. We see them walking away and then we see Jeny sitting in the back seat of her car, with her date sat right next to her continuing to video. She asks him "would you want something tasty as a dessert?" What does she mean? We soon find out.

She undresses quickly in the back seat. We are shown a fabulous close up of her naked breasts. The nipples are so hard and erect (looking like cherries – the dessert?).

She points out to Brian how good it is to let her naked skin relax and then takes his hand to feel her breasts and nipples.

She also allows him to feel between her legs before she decides to take over that task herself. She then lays back on the seat with her legs up, facing her date.

She asks him if he minds her facing towards him (I think he would have been a fool to object).

After a very short while, she lays back with her legs fully open playing with her pussy and its lips.

It is at this point I first learned about and saw how Jeny's pretty pussy turns into a beautiful butterfly. With the fingers of her right hand, she spreads her prominent inner lips and places them back against her outer pussy lips. The butterfly with it's wings fully spread!

(Yes I know, I haven't shown you Jeny's beautiful butterfly. It is a wonderful sight especially when seen glistening with Jeny's juices. It is quite often seen by Jeny's site members when she is feeling especially naughty).

There is plenty of activity going on outside Jeny's car as other vehicles and their occupants come and go. However, Jeny is not deterred and she lays back and masturbates in earnest. For the next few erotic minutes, we and Brian are treated to the erotic sight of Jeny climbing towards her orgasm. She wets the fingers on her left hand to rub the nipple on her left breast, she bites her lower lip before she groans and gasps as her powerful climax flows through her body.

After only a fairly brief moment, Jeny comes to her senses. She decides very quickly, that she doesn't much like Brian after all and he is tersely told to go, as she composes herself and recovers her clothes ready to dress.
