

Review for “A TV Show Game Test”

For this new video, Jeny invites us to experiment with a new situation. In fact, she will be accompanied by two people. One of them we know because he was in the “Subway Dream” video. You recognized it, it’s Shim. He will be Jeny's accomplice. The second person will be the “victim”, the one Jeny will try to trap. Of course, Alex is the one filming and his role is not surprising because this is a pilot show for television. But let's hide, they're coming.

For the occasion, Jeny set up a table and chairs for the boys. They take their seats and introduce themselves. Shim and Garry. In front of the table is a board with Jeny standing next to it. She wears a chocolate colored long sleeved dress, a belt to mark her waist, black pumps and a pair of tights. The first thing everyone notices: her dress is really, really short.

Jeny explains to the boys the principle of the game and specifies that the success of this first episode will trigger a contract with a TV channel. You will suggest 9 letters of the alphabet, she said, consonants and vowels and in one minute and each in turn you will tell me words that I will write on the board behind me. She specifies that it is not a competition but about finding as many words as possible.

Everyone is ready and the game can begin. Jeny opens a box of markers and chooses two colors to distinguish consonants from vowels but she is clumsy and a marker falls at her feet. She bends down to pick it up. Remember, her dress is very short and Garry already seems to like it. The boys announce the letters that Jeny writes on the board. She therefore turns her back to them when she writes and faces them when speaking to them. A very big smile lights up his face but is it Jeny's smile that they are looking at when they start to say the words? Indeed, the longer the list of words grows, the more Jeny bends over to write at the bottom of the board, which has the effect of causing her dress to rise slightly.

The first part ends. Small break. The boys talk among themselves while Jeny hides to pull up her dress. The second round will begin. The letters then the words follow one another and Garry does not remain indifferent to the length of Jeny's dress. And as in the previous round, when Jeny writes at the bottom of the board, she leans forward and we can now see the birth of her buttocks.

New break. The guys go to the back of the room for a drink while Alex asks Jeny to pull up her dress again. Oh my god ! The temperature may rise this time. Everyone takes their place and the third round begins. From the front we now see that Jeny doesn't wear no panties and Garry notices this. He feel embarrassed. And now that she turns her back to write the words on the board, her butt is clearly visible. Garry tells Shim of his discomfort because he is more and more destabilized. But Jeny's accomplice reassures him. Did you notice that Jeny is wearing seamless tights and her landing strip is visible?

Fourth round. Jeny's pussy and ass are totally visible through the pantyhose and Garry is completely lost. His colleague next to him says nothing, neither does the cameraman, the young girl seems not to notice anything,... and the game continues. The letters, the words, the board and Jeny who adds more by dropping her marker once again.

It is at this moment that Jeny notices that her dress reveals her secrets. She laughs but blames the guy for not saying anything. The three of them laugh about it but the game continues and the fourth round ends.

Jeny announces that the fifth and final round is going to be more difficult. Which way, the boys wonder as they begin to discuss it while Jeny darts to the back of the room behind them. But what does she do? She takes off her dress and walks towards the boys. She only has her shoes and tights on. She goes to the board like this. Garry can't believe his eyes and yet the game continues. Letters, words and Jeny on the board. The atmosphere is much more relaxed now and jokes are flying from both sides.

One last time Jeny erases the board. She moves closer to the boys and Garry, like a gentleman, now asks he is authorized to look if he is also authorized to touch. It's your gift, Jeny replies, moving closer. Garry's hands rest on Jeny's beautiful ass and caress it tenderly. Shim also has the right to this little pleasure and this is how the fake game show ends, for everyone's pleasure.
