

An imagination inspired by video “I’ve got a 3 seconds mount tent”

I have just received my new dirt bike, a KTM 350. Not a minute to lose, I am going to try it because the weather is very nice. I go to the small field near the refreshment bar, this small wooden shelter that the local bikers maintain. But today the bar will be closed because it only opens on weekends. I get there quickly. This bike is truly amazing. Oh there are people. I see a small camping tent and the head of a pretty young woman behind her red parasol and a biker near the rest area. The guy starts when I arrive. I am and we have fun together on our respective motorcycles. When we pass by the bar and therefore near the camping tent, I have the impression that the young woman is sunbathing naked but we are driving too fast and I may have dreamed. Finally we stop to greet each other. My name is Jacky and his name is Alex. He explains to me that he rented the bike for the day, that he competed a few years ago and that his wife Jeny is resting in the tent.

We leave and I have a little idea in mind. At the level of the bar, I stop to pretend to check my rear wheel. Alex continues straight. I have an unobstructed view of Jeny's tent. Yes she is naked. What a beauty. She is lying on her back. When she sees me, she sits up slightly, and her magnificent chest gives me real pleasure. She gives me a little wave and stretches out to offer her gorgeous body to the scorching sun. I don't believe it but eyes. She has just spread her legs and I have an exceptional view of her treasure shining with desire. But I can already hear Alex's motorcycle coming. I restart and we leave for a lap. I hope there will be a sequel.
