Today I decided to clean the house. I'll start by cleaning the balcony. In the apartment opposite and below I saw this morning the arrival of a couple for an Airbnb rental. The girl is pretty. I know this because I like to look through the big picture windows. I was vacuuming when I discovered her with her white mini skirt and tight top. She is sitting on the sofa, her smartphone in her hand. Discreetly, I approach the railing and I see very clearly her long hair, which she combs with her manicured hands. As she turns in my direction, her skirt rides high on her luscious thighs. Gently she takes off her shoes and begins to lower the zipper of her white top when she sees me.

I am trapped. I'm spotted but paralyzed by his flirtatious gaze. I am unable to move. My gaze catches his and the incredible is realized. She does not take her eyes off me and finally removes her top to release a magnificent chest and nipples erected like trophies. Then suddenly she gets up and disappears from my field of vision. What a pity. She is so beautiful. As I am about to resume my cleaning that I have barely started, she reappears. Her mini skirt is gone. She is naked. I think I'm dreaming. She looks at me frankly and gives me a show of exceptional eroticism. From where I am, nothing escapes me. Her beautiful plump buttocks, her smooth pussy except for a small line of pubic hair, her naughty smile and her facial expressions that speak volumes about the pleasure she takes in getting me back. Time for me has stopped because his poses are more and more suggestive. As my pleasure begins to rise dangerously, I hear the door to my apartment open. It is not this magnificent goddess who comes to join me, it is only my wife who returns from the supermarket. With great regret I return to my living room a little frustrated and disappointed with this interruption. A little later, when I return to the balcony, the charm is gone with the wonderful and seductive stranger.
