Can there have been anyone less dressed than our fabulous Jeny at a New Year's Eve party!

If you read the story from Jeny at the top of the gallery, you get a real insight of an evening in the life of a true exhibitionist.

They have received an invitation from a wealthy friend and so they set off for the party, thinking it's going to be a party with lots of dancing and as the night wears on, more chances for fun and games.

So what to wear? Jeny looks in her wardrobe and spots the dress that she has dreamt of wearing out to an event just like tonight's. Alex applauds her decision and feels a stirring in his loins. His only concern is that it will be cold outside and he hopes to get parked close to the club (he knows that Jeny generates enough energy to power a small town when in this frame of mind!)

So having done her make-up, she looks stunning as she puts on her jewellery (she plans to attach her nipples in the rings designed for that very purpose)

Then on comes THE dress. Alex applauds her as she stands before him. Her dress has a metallic sheen that immediately draws one's eye to all of her pleasure zones. The dress itself is sheer and the finishing touches are above the knee boots and around her waist she has chosen a black belt.

Jeny grabs a black waistcoat before leaving the apartment. Hand in hand they look at each other and smile, the evening beckons.

As they drive to the party they discuss scenarios with each other. On reaching the club they are a little disappointed as there's no place to park so after driving around the area they settle on a spot that's about 400 yards away. Alex races around to open Jeny's door, she is taken aback by the gallant gesture until she glances down and sees her pussy spread wide and Alex has a big grin on his face, 'pervert' she says as they both laugh!

On making their way to the club, Alex is surprised not to hear loud music coming from the club.

This is where they discover the mistake that they made when accepting the invitation! They had made the assumption that there would be a party atmosphere ! What to do?

Their host approaches and after shaking Alex's hand and kissing Jeny on both cheeks, offers to take Jeny's waistcoat. She declines the offer on the grounds that she chilled down on walk from the car.

So Jeny has to decide what to do Well;we know our Jeny well enough to know she will not let a minor problem get in the way of them celebrating the end of one year and the start of another!

Later, as they stroll back to the car, they stop and say 'that's a great start to the year' and laugh at what lies ahead!

As Jeny would say; poka poka
