

Review for photoshoot "Hello"

In this new series of photos, Jeny tells us that it was made with new shooting and lighting equipment. They made a good choice. Perfectionism is essential for creators. We see Jeny sitting facing a road. With a big smile, she tells us that she was honked by a tracker. It doesn't surprise me, she had just revealed her formidable breasts and you could also see her pussy without too much difficulty. She often strikes suggestive poses for our greatest pleasure with this fully transparent long dress, which she layers and transforms to become something else entirely, a mini dress for example. The game continues standing on the road and then sitting by a lamppost. Jeny hides nothing from us and her smile confirms her naughty mood.
